Hunters Report Good Cool Season, Prepare For Ducks on Oct. 29

Fishing Rodeo Will End Tomorrow, Squirrel Hunting Poor

The cool hunting season came to a close Tuesday with hunters in the Grass Lake area reporting a good season, many of them getting the limit. Flights of birds arrived nightly and toward the last the larger coot came in from Canada.

The regular migratory bird hunting season will open at noon Oct. 29 and last until Nov. 27, hunting being permitted from one-half hour before sunrise to an hour before sunset except on the opening day. While coot shooters in Lake County kept the number of fishermen down, anglers had success with both artificial and live bait.

Squirrel hunting so far this year has been only fair in Northern Illinois, with the season remaining open until November 15.

A plentiful supply of ringneck pheasants and rabbits is apparent, according to conservation officers. This season opens November 11, and all reservations on the State Public Shooting Areas have been filled.

With only one more day to go in the Illinois Fishing Rodeo, which ends Oct. 15, limits of bluegills are being taken on both flies and redworms, many black bass on surface and underwater lures, minnows and nightcrawlers, and some crappie on minnows.

Fire Prevention Week Brings Survey of Area From Antioch Department

The Antioch fire department observing Fire Prevention week by inspection of both private and public buildings for hazards reported conditions in the village good.

Through a fire drill at the Antioch grade school the building was evacuated of all pupils in a minute and a half. At the high school the students took but one minute to get out.

In the rural schools conditions were in the main good but in two instances recommendations will be made. One involves a pipe from a furnace, and the other a broken door that prevents proper exit.

This is the 300th anniversary of the organization of the volunteer fire department. A postage stamp commemorating the anniversary bears the picture of Peter Stuyvesant, the founder.

Scout Workshop Is Still in Need of Hand Tools

Work in equipping the Scout home workshop with benches was started last night by F. A. Swenson, who will be in charge of the wood-working shop at the new building. Several friends of the scout program were on hand to help the work and considerable progress was made. Plans were made for a bench to mount the power tools and a large bench for hand work was completed.

Swenson and his crew also hung the mounted deer heads and a hat rack which were gifts to the home. Plans were made to install a coat and hat rack in one corner of the shop room to accommodate clothing of persons visiting the home.

Swenson commented that although plenty of machine tools have already been donated there is an urgent need for hand tools of all sorts: chisels, mallets, drill bits, etc., and all other small tools. He added that the condition of the tools was no matter, that they can be repaired and put into service by the boys themselves. Persons who may have tools of this sort to give may phone Howard Gaston, Antioch 43 or Scoutmaster Harold E. Cardiff, Antioch 41, and the tools will be picked up.

Izaak Waltons to Meet At Conservation School On Friday and Saturday

Delegates from Illinois chapters of the Izaak Walton League of America will review progress in the League's drive to end pollution of Illinois streams and rivers, at their annual conservation conference to be held at the state conservation training school at Fox Lake Friday and Saturday, Oct. 15 and 16.

Robert C. O'Hair, Glen Ellyn, president of the League's Illinois division, said the Illinois legislature will be called on to enact new laws to stiffen the authority of the state sanitary water board in controlling pollution.

Richard Kuck, 12214 So. LaFayette Ave., Chicago, will report on the essay contest now being conducted among Illinois school children on the need for ending the pollution menace in Illinois. The League will award prizes totaling $300 to public, parochial or private school children who submit the best essay by the November 30 deadline. School children from seventh grade through high school are eligible to compete.

A symposium on pollution led by Burton H. Atwood, of Winnetka, chairman of the League's sanitation and health committee, will keynote the conservation conference. Among speakers will be Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, director, Cook county department of public health and Clarence H. Klassen, Springfield, chief sanitary engineers of Illinois and technical secretary of the sanitary water board. Dr. Piszczek will discuss the effect of stream pollution on public health and its relation to the spread of infantile paralysis. Klassen will tell how an informed public can stop pollution.

Herbert E. Hudson Urbana, head of the engineering subdivision of the state water survey will speak on "Illinois Declining Water Table." Studies by the survey show that the state's water level is falling at the rate of 7 feet each year.

Lake Villa School Board to Consider Enlarging School

Consideration of an addition to the present school building at Lake Villa will be the main reason for a special meeting to be held during the last week of this month, according to information reaching the News today.

Rumors that the board would take action on putting the proposition of the building of additional facilities at the school before the voters at a special election were spiked when Mrs. Gordon Martin, secretary of the board, reported that no discussion of the nature had taken place at the board meeting this week. She added, however, that some discussion had taken place at previous meetings concerning the working out of some method to alleviate the crowded condition at the school, and that the special meeting would be called to discuss the problem.

Raise Fund For Operation

A group of Ingleside women have raised $700 on a $1,200 fund to pay for the operation of James, 6-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Alexander, which gave the child, a blue baby, a chance to live.

The operation was performed in Chicago, and despite post-operative pneumonia the child is recovering. A benefit social is scheduled for Nov. 5 at St. Bede's.

Heading the committee are Mrs. Jennie Buchal and Mrs. Frank Lane.

Hunters May Become Disc Jockeys In Luring Ducks At Grass Lake This Year

This will be a "record" year for ducks—in one respect at least. Mallards and teal and pintails that listen to phonographs will do so at their own risk.

Hunters may take their talking machines right into their blinds come October 29, opening of the waterfowl season in the Mississippi Flyway, for recordings of live duck calls—frowned upon in previous years—will be permitted.

Announcement to this effect came from Director Livingston E. Osborne of the Illinois Department of Conservation following a flood of inquiries from shooters who haven't too much confidence in their ability to master the conventional duck calls. Director Osborne wired the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington, Jesse F. Thompson, chief of the Branch of Game Management, telegraphed back:

"Use of phonograph records to decoy ducks not contrary to present Federal migratory waterfowl shooting regulations."

And that's that!

That part of the Federal regulations permitting shooting to start one half hour before sunrise also has caused some perplexity. So the Department of Conservation's Chicago office, 160 N. LaSalle st., has prepared a list of shooting hours for the entire season, Chicago time. This list may be obtained free upon application at the Department's Chicago office.

Charles R. Runyard, 68 Former Antioch Resident Dies Of Heart Disease

Mr. Runyard was born July 6, 1880 in Salem township, and lived most of his life in Antioch, where he was employed as a laborer. Only in recent years had he lived in Salem township.

Surviving are his wife, Jessie, a sister, Mrs. Fred Willett, of Antioch, and a niece, Mary Hawkins Longman, who was raised in the Runyard home.

The funeral service was held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Strang funeral home with the Rev. G. Richard Tuttle in charge. Burial was at Grass Lake cemetery.

Antioch Beats Palatine In Football Here 13-7; Meets Northbrook Next

Determined to repeat their victory which they marked up over Palatine last Friday, the Antioch Township High school football team will face Northbrook there tomorrow evening.

The Sequoias won their first conference game of the season from Palatine here 13 to 7.

There was no dispute as to the better team as results in all departments show. Antioch's first touchdown came at the beginning of the first quarter. A pass from Poulos on the 20-yard line to Buchta rang up the six points, but no extra point materialized. Palatine came back in the second quarter to take the lead with a touchdown and a goal, taking advantage of an Antioch misplay on the 40-yard line.

On a sustained drive in the third quarter the Sequoias again scored through Poulos pass, and gained the extra point on Poulos' toss to Stillson.

Antioch had a two to one edge on the statistical results. They were: First downs, Antioch 11, Palatine 6; yards on rushing, Antioch 180, Palatine 90; yard from passing Antioch 95, Palatine 40.

Northbrook, whom the Sequoias play tomorrow evening at Glenview has held Lake Forest to a 6 to 0 score; held Batavia to even terms and lost to Grant 21 to 12.

Next week Grant will play the Sequoias here at night.

Home From Convention

Members of the village board of trustees are home from the annual convention of the Illinois Municipal league at Springfield. A position of the league that is said to be agreeable to Gov. Dwight Green is that the utilities taxes shall be returned to the municipalities. The action was a compromise in which the league withdrew its demand for return of part of the sales tax.

Schools Closed Monday

The local schools will be closed Monday while teachers attend the North section of the Lake Shore division of the Illinois Education association at Evanston.

Open House Planned for New A&P Store Oct. 21 With Opening Next Day

Modern Super-Market on Lake St. to Replace Main Street Store

An open house at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Oct. 21, prior to the general opening at 9 a. m. the following day will be given by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., at its new store on Lake st., Earle Gibbs, manager, announced today.

The public is invited to inspect the new building and contents and will be entertained with music and refreshments. There will be no sales that evening.

Present to greet the visitors with Mr. Gibbs will be J. P. Smith, Chicago, vice president of the midland division of the company and other top officials.

The new building 50x126 feet construction of brick and stone is one prepared expressly for the A & P store by Dr. Stanley Anderson of Waukegan. Its modern front provides good lighting and augmented by fluorescent lighting shows up the stock at its best.

When the store opens Friday morning the public will find a most modern-streamline arrangement of newest fixtures with an all-new stock. Eighteen employees will be there to serve and there will be four checkout places to facilitate the shopping.

There will be several new departments. A modern dairy department with, for example, 75 varieties of cheese, will be supervised by Marvin Mulsaki. The frozen foods department will be found not far from a new large produce department in which there will be fresh and frozen vegetables received daily. Ray Jensen will have charge.

A complete new meat department supervised by Elmer Guntner will include all kinds of fresh and cold meats and fish. Another conspicuous department will be the section devoted to bakery goods where Marion Spangard will preside.

The company will take pride in its coffee department because of the fact it is the only company controlling its coffee from plantation to consumer.

The old store on Main street will be operated as usual until Thursday evening. Then because none of the fixtures or stock will be used in the new building, Mr. Gibbs will merely turn the key on the Main st. store and open up the next day at the new place. The old stock will be removed later.

Manager Gibbs said that the new super-market will maintain all of the low prices of the Chicago super-markets.

Fire Department Elects Officers and Reviews Record Of 78 Calls

With the re-election of officers the village fire department started on its new fiscal year Tuesday night.

Elvin Keulman will again serve as president; Vern Barnstable as vice president; C. B. Shultis, as secretary; and George Garland as treasurer. Garland has served 28 years and Shultis 15.

Edward Frazier was elected delegate to the Lake County Firemen's association for a three-year period. Einer Petersen was chosen sergeant at arms.

Secretary Shultis reported that there had been 78 fire calls during the year, 19 of which were in Antioch, 50 in the fire district; three at Lake Villa; one at Salem and one at Bristol.

The Antioch calls involved property worth $258,000 with a loss of only $5,600; the district involved property worth $223,000 with a loss of $133,730. The complete loss of the Webb and Boyles boat house caused the high percentage in the district.

Antioch's low loss cost the village but $398.

New Grass Lake School Will Have Open House

There will be open house at the Grass Lake school Wednesday evening, Oct. 20 starting at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited to inspect the building.

Prices, Like Water, Find Their Level

An authority on the marketing of meat recently observed that "meat and livestock prices move together—what meat packers pay for livestock matching what consumers pay for meat."

In other words, meat is governed by the law of supply and demand. There are more than 4,000 meat packers in this country. They are competing for the available supply of livestock at all times—each must get a share of it if he is to keep his plant in operation. And meat packing is one of the most efficient enterprises in existence. Almost nothing is wasted—hides, horns, hair, hoofs and other inedible parts of animals are used in a lengthy list of products ranging from soap to medicines. Last year, the profits of packers averaged about 2/3 of one cent per pound—a sum which had only a microscopic influence on the price paid by the ultimate consumer.

We hear much of the enormous total income of the farmers and ranchers who produce our livestock. But today the cost of labor, feed and everything else the farmer must buy to keep in business is also at record levels. It takes around two years to grow cattle to weights suitable for marketing, and about a year in the case of hogs. So the investment the producer has in his livestock is heavy by the time he can sell it, and this must be included in wholesale and retail prices.

It cannot be repeated too often that in a competitive, free enterprise economy prices find their own level. This is true of a steer or a suit of clothes or a house and lot. Prices are an accurate reflection of the economic forces of the day.

Industrial Miracle

The public has heard much of the extraordinary job the oil industry has been doing in stepping up production to meet a record demand that no one could have anticipated. But that, according to the economist for a major oil company, should not result in over-optimism. In various parts of the country, oil products will be tight this winter, and unless sensible conservation methods are employed by consumers there could be shortages. We haven't got oil in unlimited quantity, and we won't have for sometime to come.

Middle East oil, the economist went on, is becoming increasingly important to Americans. The average American uses 30 times as much petroleum a year as the average citizen of the other countries of the world. This has made it constantly more difficult to take care of our own demands and the needs of others at the same time. The Middle East holds the greatest known source of crude oil, and it is now being developed under the leadership of American companies. Eventually, it is hoped, the Middle East fields will produce enough to meet the requirements of the entire Eastern Hemisphere, and so lift a heavy load from the Western Hemisphere.

The story of oil, here and in other countries, is one of constant progress. American engineering genius, capital and talent for organization are doing a job of historic importance in finding and supplying the oil to the world. It is an industrial miracle that really severe shortages have been prevented. No one will lack for essential oil if we all use our share of the supply wisely and economically.

Anti-Inflation Policy

A recently survey of a representative group of department and specialty stores, including both independent and chain systems, shows that there is "a trade-wide trend" toward lower profit margins. As an example, these stores' net profits during the first six months of this year, after estimated taxes, came to 2.9 per cent of net sales, as contrasted with 3.4 per cent for the same period in 1947.

Figures like this are the best possible answer to those who still think that retailing is even partially responsible for high prices. The survey touched on that when it observed, in the words of a New York Times news item, "that store managements were unwilling to meet sharply increased operating expenses of payroll and service through higher mark-on percentages, with consequent higher prices to the consumer." In other words, stores have preferred to absorb higher costs when possible, even though this means a substantial reduction in profits.

The attitude of retailing is based on sound business practice. Every store owner worth his salt is aware of the danger of pricing millions of consumers out of the market, with the decline in volume sales that would follow. Mass distribution is every bit as important to this country as mass production. Neither one can exist without the other. And both of them are necessary if we are to have maximum employment at good wages.

The share of the consumer dollar that the retailer is able to keep for himself after all the bills are paid is small indeed—so small that it hardly makes an impression on our total living costs. And the fact that it has been getting smaller, and in most cases is less than in OPA days, indicates the extent of retailing's consistent anti-inflation policy.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I just been perusin' the paper where it says that scientists here and there are becoming wary of Govt. jobs on research and some are quitting. But the ones saying these things won't name names. And such refusal, the way I deduct it, means there are no names to name—and furthermore if there are any who quit, then they may be getting out while the coast is clear and the getting is good and before the investigation actually is camping on their door-step.

Quitting to avoid questioning, if you are innocent, don't make sense. But scientists, they are sometimes our nation's greatest suckers—hard to understand, some of 'em. Likewise with lots of educators—gullible souls, many of 'em are— theoretical to the point of being their own worst enemy. If I was in the brass watch business I would include in my prospect list, the whole faculty of all our biggest universities.

Take Govt. ownership—socialism for short—most university faculties team with advocates. And all the time while they are telling their classes the desirability of the Govt. running everything—the money in the bank that is there to pay off their paycheck, was put there by private business.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

YOUR OLD FLAME HAS THE New Look!

...Better Baking with a modern GAS range!

YOU'LL FIND every baking session ends with success... when you have a modern GAS range. There's no guesswork—no mathematics involved. Accurate temperature controls give you the exact shade of steady heat you want... without hot spots. The ovens of the new ranges are ventilated for uniform baking... thickly insulated for a cooler kitchen and lower fuel bills. A minute minder ticks off the time and lets you know when food is done. Some new ranges have two ovens... you can use one for baking and one for roasting. Others have one large oven... plenty big enough for an entire, economical oven meal.

You can have automatic oven cooking with your new GAS range, too! While you spend the afternoon shopping, a dependable clock control turns the oven on... maintains the correct heat until the meal is done... and turns the oven off—automatically! Some ranges have a glass window in the oven door... you can see what's cooking from the outside looking in. And, of course, the oven—like the burners and broiler—lights automatically!

The New Look in GAS ranges means new beauty plus greater economy. You'll like the rounded edges, sparkling white porcelain, and flush to the wall and floor construction. Yes, combined with their new good looks, to-

'SEE YOU IN CHURCH' METHODIST THEME

A rally call to its fall and winter program was issued this week by the Methodist church. Taking as its theme, "See You In Church Sunday," the local church is beginning a series of six Sunday morning services which should be of special interest to all members and friends of the church. This Sunday will be observed as "Harvest Festival Sunday" at which time goods and produce will be brought for the Lake Bluff Orphanage. The Festival is an annual event in the church and brings a wide response. Those desiring to do so may bring their gifts for the Festival on Saturday. There will be someone in the church all day beginning at 9 o'clock.

The robed choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles B. Watson, will sing at the 11 o'clock worship service and Rev. Tuttle will bring the message. A nursery for small children is maintained in the basement of the church to enable parents to attend the worship service.

The third coast-to-coast program in the radio series "Great Scenes From Great Plays," sponsored by the Episcopal families of Antioch, over station WGN on Friday evening from 7:00 to 7:30 Central Standard Time, will be "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

Like the other plays in the weekly series, the "Barretts of Wimpole Street" is produced by the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church with the cooperation of the 800 members of the Episcopal Actors' Guild. While the entire series provides a high level in radio entertainment, it shows also the living, working practical helpfulness of the Church in dealing with human troubles in our disturbed modern age.

Auxiliary Has 147 Members

Woodlands Taking on Gay Colors But Credit Not Given to Jack Frost

Mid-October has come to Northern Illinois with colorful road-sides and promise of unusually brilliant Autumn foliage, according to veteran observers of the Department of Conservation.

From Waukegan west through the Fox Chain O' Lakes region and beyond, the annual transformation from green to red and gold already is noticeable and from the picturesque hills of Algonquin down through the purple-shadowed Fox River Valley the change is marked resplendently.

In a few days the woods have gone from a suggestion of color to bursts of it. Over the next two weekends they're expected to be ablaze.

Sunflowers have drooped and wild asters reached their massed perfection. "The bird is on the wing," with thickets filling over-night with migrant songsters here for brief rests on their annual journey southward. Hardwoods are splashed with brilliance, crimson banners of sumac wave along the roadsides and woodbine runs like a garnet thread through the fences.

For the benefit of the thousands who will be driving over the countryside during the next few weeks to admire the autumnal coloring, the Department of Conservation has prepared the following color chart to assist in identifying the trees.

Ash—Yellow
Beech—Orange yellow and scarlet
Birch—Bright to orange yellow, fawn, brown.
Elm—Pale yellow to golden.
Hawthorne—Chiefly brown.
Hard Maple—Red
Sugar Maple—Bright yellow to orange.
Black Oak—Deep red to orange brown.
Red Oak—Orange and dark red
Scarlet Oak—Brilliant scarlet and crimson.

White Oak—Red to brownish orange.
Poplar—Yellow to golden
Sassafras—Red
Sumac—Brilliant to dull red.
Sycamore—Brown
Walnut—Yellow

Willow—Light yellow to brown
Actually, Jack Frost has little to do with this annual riot of color, according to Conservation Director Livingston E. Osborne, who says:

"The transition is due to chlorophyll, green, withdrawing and leaving other chemicals to transform our trees into a new radiance. Sufficient moisture, together with other factors, such as sunshine, help Nature paint its annual masterpiece."

A fully illustrated booklet, "The Trees of Illinois" may be procured without charge from the Department of Conservation's Chicago office at 160 N. LaSalle st., or by writing to the Springfield office in the State Capitol Building.

Fox Lake Magistrate Fines 15 Chicagoans For Hunting Violations

Fifteen men, all from Chicago, were fined amounts varying from $10 to $100 by Police Magistrate Bossie Olsen of Fox Lake over the weekend for game law violations.

Because the wardens Dale Hallsley and George Tieling were garbed as hunters in their sleuthing, three hunters at Channel lake having no hunting license resisted arrest, and it was necessary to call in deputy sheriffs to take charge. They were each fined $10 and costs.

One person was fined for shooting from a motorboat, and the rest for shooting before time set. Their fines were $25 each.

Sam Vori of 317 W. 25th pl., Chicago, was fined $100 for killing a pheasant on the state conservation grounds. A hunter living near Antioch was fined a similar amount a week previous for killing a pheasant out of season.

HICKORY

Mr. and Mrs. G. Fox, who live in one of the Palaski apartments, returned home Saturday night from a two week's vacation in Iowa visiting relatives.

Mrs. Russell Stearns, of Waukegan, was the guest of honor at a stork shower at the Curtis Wells home last Thursday evening. The hostesses were the four Wells daughters, Lillian, Ruth, Virginia and Shirley. Twenty-five guests were present.

N. Y. Milk Production
Milk production in New York state was more than eight billion pounds in 1947, about as large as previous highs in 1943 and 1944, and 7 per cent larger than the 10-year average.

Air Show at Libertyville This Weekend Expected to Attract Huge Attendance

Parachute jumpers, stunt fliers, and racing planes will vie for honors in the huge air show featuring Maj. Speed Chandler and his International Flyers to be staged at Chicago's airport, Milwaukee ave., near Libertyville, Saturday and Sunday.

Midget plane races, light plane races, and high powered planes will be featured in the speed contests over a closed triangular course.

Delayed parachute jumping featuring Suicide Jones, sensational Negro jumper, and Wild Bill Grant, former Army paratrooper, will share the parachute spotlight with a spot jumping contest and a mass jump demonstration of paratroop tactics.

The aerial acrobatics will be handled by Marion, Duane, and Lester Cole, who perform as a team and Art Davis, a veteran of 30 years of airplane stunting and a flying veteran of two wars.

Bill Paris, Negro aerobist who was an instructor in the Army's famed all-Negro fighter squadron during the war, will execute precision maneuvers at low altitudes.

The two day show opens at 12:30 and there will be plenty of free parking space.

Cotton in Bags

Consumption of cotton for bags mounted to 820,000 bales in 1943, owing largely to increase in wartime packaging requirements accompanied by curtailments of imports of burlap from India. With burlap once more available and the use of paper increasing, the consumption of cotton for bags dropped to 440,000 bales in 1946. Although cotton faces continued competition from burlap and growing competition from paper, says the bureau of agricultural and industrial chemistry, bags are expected to represent the largest single end use of cotton by 1950, with an estimated consumption of more than a half million bales.

Thaddeus Kosciuszko

Thaddeus Kosciuszko arrived in America from Poland in the summer of 1776. He found employment at Philadelphia in construction of fortifications against the expected attack by the Delaware. This gained him his commission from congress as an engineer in the continental service, with pay of $60 a month and the rank of colonel. He fought for six years with the American army, and fortified West Point. Kosciuszko first suggested for a national military school the spot where West Point now stands.

Farmer's Allies

While hawks and owls are predators, their prey consists overwhelmingly of small rodents, rats and mice and other creatures. Owls without exception and hawks, with but two or three exceptions, are the farmer's allies and not his enemies. Both hawks and owls serve in a volunteer role of rodent control agents.

Pilgrims Used Copper

When the Pilgrims landed on the shores of Massachusetts in 1620 they had among their most cherished possessions gleaming copper utensils, brass candlesticks, pewers, and other objects made from the red metal and its alloys to make the interior of their homes both decorative and comfortable.

Don't Overstock Your Pond If You Want Excellent Fishing

AMES, IOWA. — Don't put too many fish in your farm pond if you want good fishing.

That is the advice given by Kenneth Carlander, fishery expert of Iowa State college.

Carlander, in cooperation with the state conservation commission and the United States wildlife service, conducted studies in which a sampling was made of Iowa's estimated 10,000 farm ponds.

Most common cause of poor fishing, he found, was overstocking. Some ponds were discovered to be too shallow, some too small and others generally not suited for fish.

Carlander recommended a pond of one acre, from 10 to 12 feet deep, as probably the most satisfactory.

He advised limiting the stock to 100 fingerling large mouth bass and 1,000 blue gill fingerlings per acre in rich ponds. More than that is overstocking, he said, and even that number is too great for ponds that are not fertilized.

The bass will feed on the blue gills and keep their numbers down, Carlander said.

He added fishing may be started after the first spawning. To provide balanced growth, catch and take home as many fish as possible but don't exceed the legal limits, he advised.

Eager Beaver Evens Score With Juvenile Campers

NEWBURGH, N. Y.—John Orth, director of the Trillium museum at Bear mountain, tells a story about a beaver and some boys.

Each night the beaver deposited a pile of sticks on a lake dock near a boys' camp, he relates. Each morning the boys used the sticks for their campfires.

That went on for some time, until one morning the boys looked for the expected pile of sticks, only to find their dock floating out in the lake.

The beaver took his revenge by gnawing away the pilings under the dock.

Mother of Four Gets Degree After 13 Years of Study

PITTSBURGH.—Thirteen years of night school study, sandwiched between baby-sitting, housework and cooking, paid off for dark haired Mrs. Virginia Geary. She finally got her college diploma.

The 32-year-old mother of four children graduated from Duquesne university's school of commerce with a bachelor of science degree.

One of the proudest spectators at the graduation was her four-year-old son, Kevin. The 11-month-old twin girls and Mark, eight, stayed at home.

"Mark said he'd rather stay home and play tiddledywinks," his mother explained.

Mrs. Geary, who started as a stenographer, started to the Duquesne night school in 1935. She had completed two years of work when she met and married a young law student, Martin Geary.

Her husband, now a successful lawyer, did the baby-sitting at night so his wife could attend classes.

Doctor Reports Carving at Lake Is 20,000 Years Old

SANTA FE, N. M.—Dr. Helmut de Terra reports that a carving, found on the shores of Mexico's prehistoric Lake Texcoco, is about 20,000 years old.

That is about 10,000 years older than the Tepepan man whose discovery won international recognition for the 48-year-old Viking fund anthropologist.

The carving, one and a half inches long, was cut from an elephant molar. It is now at the Mexican national museum in Mexico City.

It was brought to de Terra by an excavator in a sand pit near the site where de Terra found the Tepepan man.

He said the carving might have been the right foot of a statue or an amulet used in healing ceremonies.

"Whatever its use," he said, "it is interesting and heretofore unknown, first that man lived as early as 20,000 years ago on this continent, and second that early man had a good deal higher culture than before supposed."

Excavations Begin on Site Of Prehistoric Village

CARTAXO, PORTUGAL.—Excavations have begun on the site where traces of a prehistoric bronze age settlement were found some years ago. The site is at Vila Nova, Sao Pedro, where it is presumed the village was destroyed by fire about 1700 B. C.

Excavations in 1947 showed that in the center of the village there must have been a granary, for charred grains still existed. Silex arrows also were found.

Under the layer of ashes many valuable archeological objects were found, such as polished stone hatchets, rounded hammers, sickles, blades, charred bones and buttons.

State Shooting Grounds Are All Solidly Booked

Popularity of Illinois' new Public Hunting Grounds program was demonstrated this week when Conservation Director Livingston E. Osborne announced that all eight areas operated by the Department of Conservation are booked solid for both waterfowl and pheasant seasons.

Reservations for the Chain O' Lakes area in Lake County were the first to be filled. Here applications exceeded the number of permits that can be issued on the first day such applications were received by the Division of Game Management in Springfield, Oct. 1. Within five days all reservations on the other seven areas were filled.

Through this division, under the supervision of Joe B. Davidson, Illinois has been placed among the leading states of the nation in provision of well-regulated and productive public shooting grounds.

Waterfowl shooting areas are located at Anderson Lake, near Browning, 1,014 acres; Rice Lake, near Banner, 2,370 acres; Sparland, near the city of that name, 1,280 acres and Woodford County, near Lacon, 2,450 acres.

Shooting areas for pheasants and rabbits are situated at Chain O' Lakes, near Fox Lake, 840 acres; Des Plaines, near Plainfield, 4,300 acres; Green River, near Ohio, Ill., 2,330 acres and Iroquois County, near Beaverville, 2,000 acres.

Prior to 1941 only two public shooting grounds were in existence in the state, Sparland and Woodford County—and these provided only fair shooting then.

A further expansion of this program to give more sportsmen an opportunity to hunt on public lands is planned by Director Osborne.

Half of U. S. Marriages Will End in Divorce by '80, Sociologist Says

By 1970 or '80, America's divorce rate will have risen to 50 per cent of the marriages, if present trends continue, a Northwestern University sociologist said recently.

Speaking at a Family Life Conference sponsored by the Fox Valley District of the Illinois Welfare Association, Prof. Ernest R. Mowrer, specialist in family relations and author of four books on the subject, attributed the increasing number of divorces largely to the modern tendency toward urbanization.

"The instability of the family is merely a part of the general instability of society," he said. "People no longer cling to the family group when the city offers many and diversified interests. The family living in a suburb, with the father in business in the metropolitan center, finds that the mother becomes the dominant figure, and assumes leadership in community activities. Her husband's interest are almost entirely with his business. Often he does not even know the neighbors who are his wife's friends."

The whole pattern of social life has become more disorganized than it was in the days of the colonial family, Prof. Mowrer pointed out. The family formerly performed multiple functions, such as educational, economic, and recreational. Its function now is only an "affectional" one. The interests and ambitions of the individual have become paramount in modern life. The family has come to serve these personal desires. If it ceases to serve them, it is dissolved.

In colonial days, he declared, the prestige in a community depended on family status. The happiness of social standing which marriage offered to our forefathers, he said, might be comparable to the happiness of companionship and teamwork found today by members of a successful family.

Prof. Mowrer, who has been a member of the Northwestern faculty for 20 years, is collaborating with his wife on a new book to be published soon, "The Family and Marriage."

The Parent-Teacher society of the Antioch Township High school will meet with Principal T. R. Birkhead this evening in planning the three meetings for the year. Mrs. Henry Rantner is president; Mrs. Robert J. McCann, secretary; and Mrs. John Hojem, treasurer of the organization.

To Plan Year's Program

The Parent-Teacher association will meet at the grade school at 8 p. m. Monday with Mrs. W. C. Petty reviewing children's books obtainable from the Antioch library.

Mrs. Gus Mantis and the first year room mothers will be in charge of refreshments. Turkey, a gift of Mr. Mantis, will be served.

Giant Pea Shooter

More torpedoes have been launched into a man-made lake at Morris dam, Calif., by a giant pea shooter than were used against the Japanese during World War II by navy carrier torpedo planes. Launched at the underwater ordnance test range, torpedoes of every conceivable shape have been fired during tests to improve structure, accuracy, and ballistic design. The torpedoes are fired by a 300-foot air launching tube.

Figuring Navy Time
Time in the navy is figured on the 24-hour day with the time expressed as a four-figure group. The first two figures denote the hour and the second two figures denote the minutes, beginning with midnight which is represented by 0000. For example, 0800, means 8 a. m. or eight hours and no minutes after midnight, while 1630 would be 4:30 p. m., or 16 hours and 30 minutes after midnight.

Where Cotton Is Grown
More than 40 per cent of the world's cotton is produced on only 3 per cent of the world's land surface. The United States cotton belt, which includes North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona and California, is the most highly specialized agricultural region in the world.

U. S. Workers Turn Poetic
District of Columbia employees of the federal government, including physicists, audit clerks, marine engineers, typists, personnel technicians and topographic draftsmen, have banded together in publication of "Poetry From the Potomac." The volume comprises more than 300 poems by 37 workers. Since its founding in July, 1944, the federal poets' organization has published a bi-monthly magazine of its own. The poems are on subjects ranging from the atomic bomb to summer rain.

For Better Corn
The effects of radioactive sulphur on bean and tomato plants are being checked by agricultural scientists. According to members of the Institute of Radiobiology and Biophysics at University of Chicago, one of three institutes in a 13 million dollar atomic research program, these experiments may lead to development of better corn, beans and tomatoes—more cheaply produced.

For Fretful Hands
Wearing rubber gloves while you do household tasks will help prevent chipped nails and chapped hands. You'll find rubber gloves will slip on more easily if you first sprinkle powder on the hands.

Franklin's Library

Benjamin Franklin's library was also his study. It was a very large chamber, high-studded. The walls were covered with book shelves, filled with books; besides these there were four large alcoves, extending two-thirds the length of the chamber, filled in the same manner. His library was by far the largest and best private library in America at the time.

Wake and Midway

The United States flag was hoisted over Wake Island on July 4, 1898, by Gen. F. V. Greene, commanding second detachment Philippine expedition. It is on the direct route from Hawaii to Hong Kong. The Midway Islands, owned by the United States, are a group in the North Pacific, 1,200 miles northwest of the Hawaiian Islands.
